THE ST ALBAN'S HOLBORN BURIAL SOCIETY & BROOKWOOD CEMETERY

This is a short history of the Burial Society which still flourishes today. The Burial Society visits the St Alban's plot twice a year for Mass and for 2014 dates are Saturday 10 May and Saturday 6 September.

ACHS members are more than welcome to join the visits or of course may make their own way there at any time. If you do, remember there are no catering facilities in the cemetery. Brookwood is on the line to Alton from Waterloo. However, the cemetery is over 400 acres and it is essential to download a map from the cemetery website to navigate towards S Alban's Section. It is marked the map as section 46. Parking near the enclosure is not a problem.

NOTICE OF THE AGM AND SUMMER LECTURE

This will be held on Monday June 9th and will be followed by a lecture by Canon Terry Loudon who will speak on Father Dolling, the famous nineteenth century Portsmouth slum priest at St Agatha's church. The lecture will take place at St Clement Danes church commencing at 7pm. Papers for the meeting will be forwarded in due course and all members are urged to attend.

The lecture takes place after the AGM and the evening will end with refreshments and a finger buffet.

PUBLICATIONS IN PREPARATION

A second volume of Michael Yelton's "Empty Tabernacles" will appear later in the year. Two lectures are in the pipeline – Dr Litten's talk on the Marquis d'Oisy and the January lecture on Archbishop Neile. The lectures will be distributed to members as usual when available. A Paper on Lost Manchester Churches is scheduled towards the end of the year.
